Principal's Message

J. V. PETERS
Principal

Another memorable year has slipped into the realm of the immediate past for classmates and teachers at Upper Columbia Academy. Too late now, for vain regrets concerning half-cared for responsibilities, or unaccepted opportunities! But with this sobering thought, there is the parallel and much more cheering one, the assurance that we as a school family have shared the joys of growth both spiritual and intellectual during this, another fine school term; the results of which will last throughout life. Definite waymarks have been passed and each has been indicated with lasting joys of youthful fellowship that are now stored up in memories, receptacles as a bulwark against the possible disappointments that must need still come.

Friendships for a lifetime that will soon encircle the earth's compass as our family scatters to adult responsibilities, will always be treasured, and will in some instances become the basis for even deeper relationships.

It is no unprepared, or uninitiated student body that we send forth from this institution of training, but a group of well balanced, fully prepared youth, sufficiently mature for the stresses and strains of today's demands in this modern world to stand its maximum tests and still show forth those sterling traits that mark them as superior and fully prepared for this life, and fit candidates for the world to come. Into you, our students, has gone maximum effort on your part, much sacrifice from parents and the best work of our teachers! This school and the Church rest their cause with you . . .

Our Dedicated Youth!

The heart of any Christian School is the Spiritual Activities afforded each student. Twice each day the school family comes together for worship. They greet the day with songs of praise to God. At the end of a day filled with work, study and measure of play, they come again to God's throne for evening worship. Thus the benediction of heaven's peace crowns every new day.

Each Sabbath Day is begun with the Vesper Service. As the word of God is opened, the heavenly manna falls for the worshiper to gather according to his needs. Like the memorial of sunlight valleys and sparkling lakes the memories of vesper services will recall the beauty of holiness to all who have come to our chapel on Friday evening.

The Sabbath morning hour of worship is a highlight of the Sabbath Day. It is the privilege of each youth to come with humbled heart to receive God's blessing. The light of God's work shines from the open Bible as it is ministered through one of God's appointed heralds.

Young peoples meeting challenges the courage, faith and devotion of each young person. From the school many students go to homes in nearby communities to distribute literature. Some give regular Bible Studies to interested people.

Another Spiritual experience vital to the school year is the week of prayer. Three times each year a week is devoted to the Spiritual considerations.

Thus Christ is made the vital center of the school life.
