Spangle, Wa.

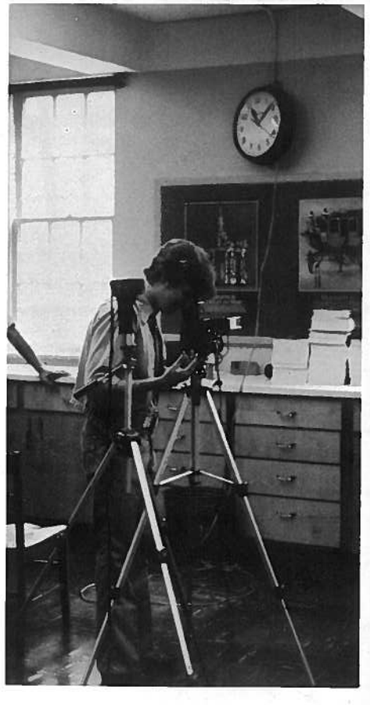

New faces, old friends, long lines, more new faces. Remember it all? Remember how by the end of handshake the lower end of your upper limb felt like it had gone through a trash compactor? And then came Monday morning, with the agony of what to wear, the hair that wouldn't lay down, the breakfast that wouldn't stay down, and Sunday's confidence — where did it go? Remember classes? You were there, weren't you? Or were you?

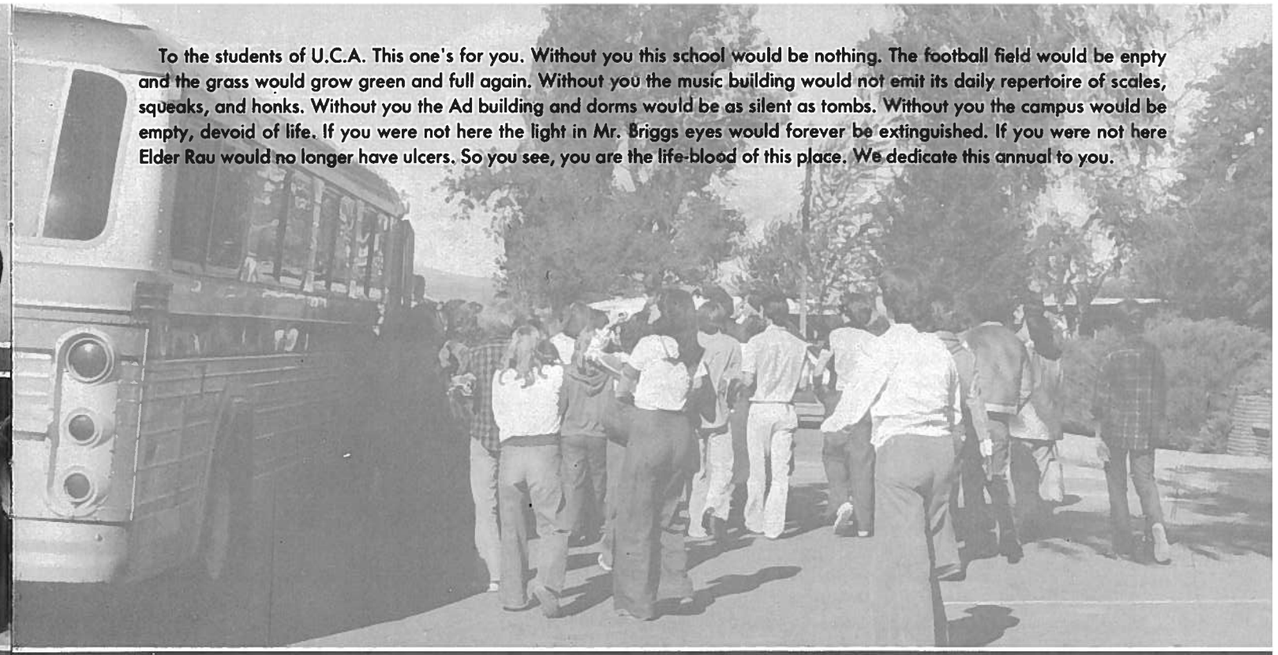

Remember the whispers all around you?
"Auto mech isn't in the Ad Building?"
"7:25 a.m. A.M.!"
"Is Munroe as bad as they say he is?"
"But I thought it meant 7:25 p.m.; guess I missed that class."
But we made it. The new faces became old friends, our hands eventually returned to their original shape, and U.C.A. became our school. This is what U.C.A. is all about: classes, friends, work, and all that good stuff. This is the year we have spent together.

To the students of U.C.A. This one's for you. Without you this school would be nothing. The football field would be enpty and the grass would grow green and full again. Without you the music building would not emit its daily repertoire of scales, squeaks, and honks. Without you the Ad building and dorms would be as silent as tombs. Without you the campus would be empty, devoid of life. If you were not here the light in Mr. Briggs eyes would forever be extinguished. If you were not here Elder Rau would no longer have ulcers. So you see, you are the life-blood of this place. We dedicate this annual to you.

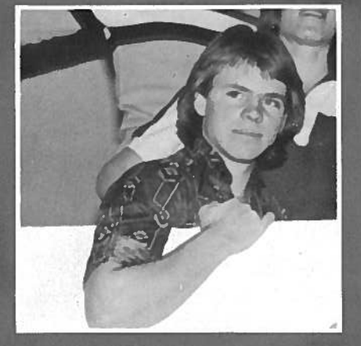

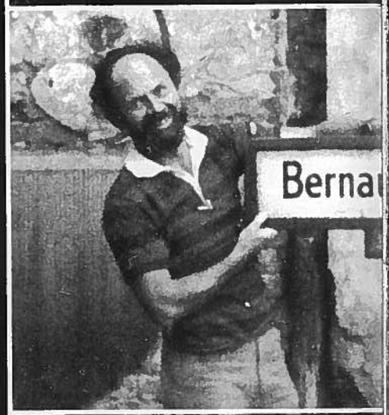

FACULTY & STAFF

Do you know your faculty as well as you should? Did you know that Mr. Aldred's favorite breakfast is scrambled ping-pong balls? Mr. Hacko really wanted to be a physical Ed teacher. Miss Cochran didn't want to teach at all, but figured it was the best way to demonstrate her adequate vocab. Mrs Halverson never took Home Ec., Mr. Munroe can't write legibly and Mr. Peach is a Russian Spy (shhhh).

Dorm Life

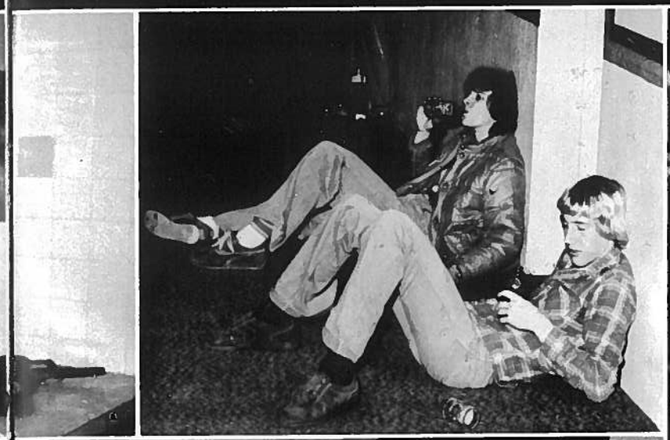

Dear Mom,

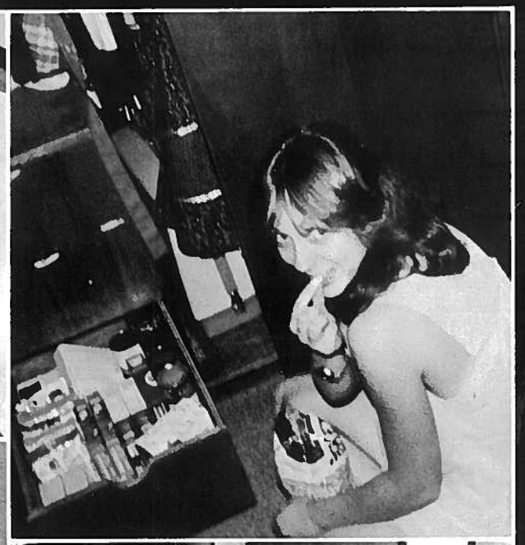

Well I've been here a week. CAN I COME HOME? The dorm isn't a bit like home. At home my bed is never filled with tricky pictures of Corn Flakes, AJAX and itching powder. At home the toilet is never covered with a film of Vaseline and my deep is never disturbed by shaving cream thrust in my face. I guess it's not all bad though. There's the neatest girl down the hall and the cutest guy sits behind me in bible. Maybe I'll stay another week.

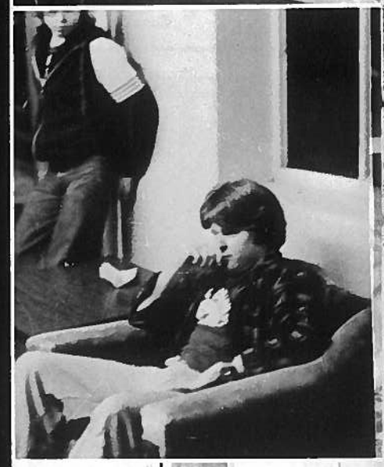

Your loving daughter,
Agatha Jane

P.S. I forgot Herman. Could you send him up?

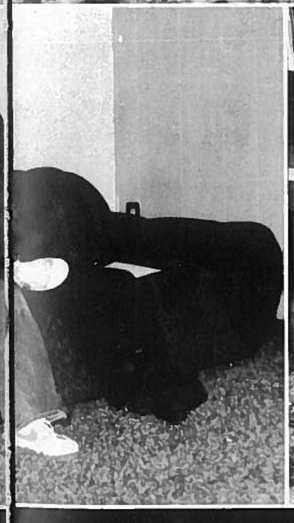

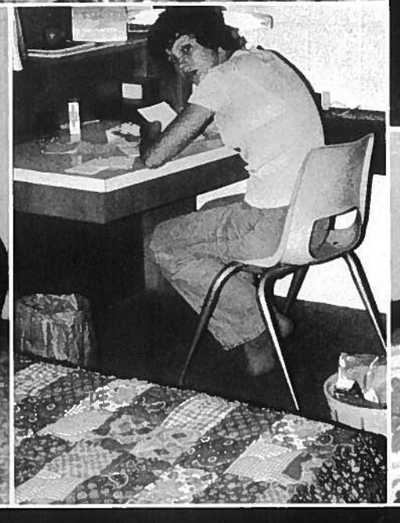

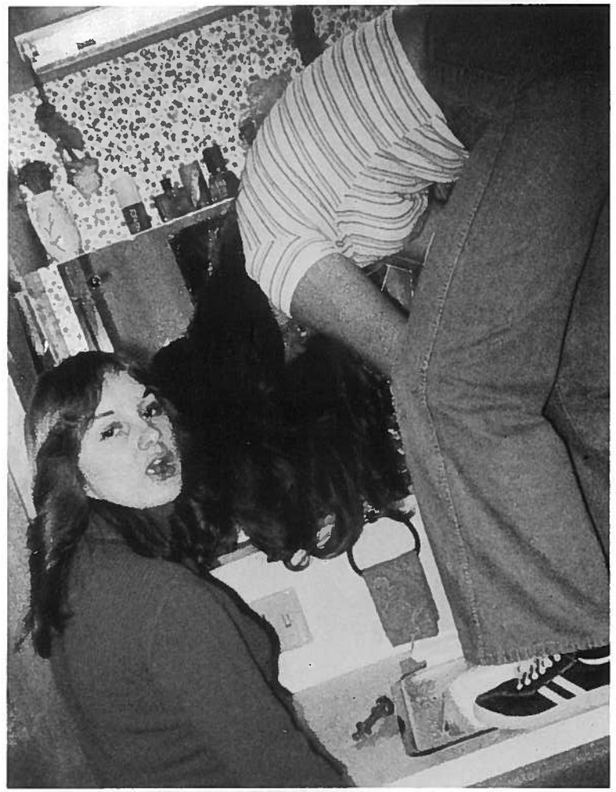

"I thought you only returned to childhood during senility."

"Velda, you and your crazy shape-up routines!"

"Mrs. Kriner will never find my Micro Wave oven up here."

"Milkbone gave me cleaner, whiter teeth in 3 weeks!"

Come as you are to the feast of the Lord.
Come through the open door.
There you will find peace of mind
and a joy that you've never known before.
Are you ashamed of your twisted mind
and your body all covered with sin?
Oh come to Him. Come as you are and He'll make you clean again.
Oh come, come to him.
Dwell with Him-eternally.

Banquets

Tis' the season of the year again. The season when charming cavaliers escort their fair maidens to a redecorated, rejuvenated and unrecognizable cafeteria. There, by soft candlelight, beautiful people eat with a delicacy befitting royalty, and etiquette not often found in this place of strange dishes. This is what the casual watcher would observe. But those who look closer know that it's a coverup, a veneer. It's actually the season of sweating palms, hair that won't stay slicked down and corsages that won't stay upright after being pinned securely in place. Tis' the season when guys wear paths in the floors pacing and wondering, "Will she or won't she accept?" When it matters if socks match and shoes are shined; when doors are approached on the right side and chairs are pushed in slowly. Tis' the season for wondering what to talk about and if she/he is being bored to death by you. Everyone is on his best manners and the campus is magically transformed into an Emily Post training center. It's banquet time.

A.S.B. Associated Student Body — sometimes described as the Student Labor Union. This year's activities were quite exceptional: 3 — legged soccer, human foosball, ice cream feeds, "Almost Anything Goes" (with half of the school gone), a visit from WWC Gymnastics Team, etc. The banquets made life interesting for everyone. The A.S.B. campaign was for new gym equipment: curtains, scoreboard, and a grand piano, so by the end of the year the seniors could graduate in a "presentable" atmosphere. Congratulations officers on a job well done!

Echo's Staff

Our school has what every other needs and wants. We have a small troup of intrepid reporters intent on gathering in even the smallest bit of information. Led by the gallant and courageous Mr. Munroe, these blossoming newspeople will brave the most terrifying of elements just to track down new and sensational stories.

Monte Robison was almost drowned interviewing the spring flood waters, and Velda Hunt was able to look death in the face after asking Mr. Peach if he was indeed a Russian spy. The results of this death-defying activity? A paper that comes out once a month full of news, puzzels and diversions for the bored inmates of UCA. Just what I said, we have what every other school wants and needs. Glad to have you around. Yes, even you Mr. Munroe!

Echo Log Staff

Every school year an annual mysteriously appears. This startling piece of literature contains all of the materials needed to create many memories. Have you ever wondered exactly who designed and assembled the mountains of pictures and copy found between it's covers? We have decided to unlock the mystery and explain to the ignorant laymen just who is responsible for this magnificent masterpiece you are holding in your hands.

Editor — This seemingly important post has one overwelming responsibility, telling others what to do. Our Editor, Ms. Sheri Roff, puts up with all kinds of nerve-racking things from stopping the U.S. Mail to make our deadlines, to recovering lost negatives.

Asst. Ed. — Dede Elsom is our littlest bigshot. She simply follows our "courageous" editor's instructions with occasional minor changes, and nervous breakdowns.

Layout Ed. — Our layout ed, Velda Hunt, does exactly what the name implies — she usually plays around with the Quad-packs and is a demond with the cropping tool.

Copy Eds — Oh boy, it's our turn! We are without a doubt the ones who give the annual its zip and pizzaz. If it weren't for us this yearbook would be just another history text. Sincerely, Dave and Wendy.

Photographers — Our under cover photographers are constantly ready to preserve your most embarrassing moment for all of eternity. Between Dave, Arnie, Alan, and Jeff, you are bound to be caught sometime.

Ads. Mang. — Every annual needs Ads. They pay for all the nice extras, and for the Annual Staff's yearly dinner in Spokane. We are happy to have the charming Miss Carleen Fisher holding this position. She is best known for her ability in conning gullible businessmen.

Left Field — Announcing Zendi Hansen our mathimatical wizzard, layout technician, and plain old "Know everything else" genious. Since she works in the business office she lets us know how long it is before we go broke.

Sponsor — And now a word about our sponsor. Miss Cochran has the tremendous and taxing job of correcting all the editor's spelling errors and signing the finished Quad-packs thus making them official.

4-Year Club

You bet 4 years are enough! Especially when 4 members of the 4-year club are itching 4 times a day for their long-awaited 4-year leave. (Glenn, LaZann, Marty, and Anita), while 4 other (Velda, Tonja, Russel, and Colleen) have gone back to Ad Council 4 times to see if they can stay 4 more years! Their sponsor — Mr. Poach, with his 4-hour migraines, has had enough of their fund-raising escapades, i.e. — Selling 4-year old p;ies, and selling 4 tickets each to 4 of the club members (Angela, Denise, Terri, and Tammi) to the movie "No Deposit, No Return." But after 4 side-splitting hours, these 4 wanted their money back, but Russel said "4 deposits, no returns!." The other 4 (Bert, Patsy, Charlene, and Fawn) have dedided on "four-" feiting their trip to L.A. after seeing Mr. Peach hit 4 telephone poles on Highway 4. Hopefully their 4 years here won't be easily "four"-gotten.

Wilderness Club

What is it like to belong to a wilderness club? Since this is rather difficult to explain, our information expert came up with a report from a recent research project on wilderness clubs which contained the following recipe for a wilderness club trip:

Ingredients:

10-15 Exuberant, campers — expert or would be.

Approx. 10 pairs of ill-fitting boots (can be substituted by tennis shoes).

1 overweight pack for each camper — each one containing many items which are unneccessary and/or will not be used.

3 sponsors — uncertain as what to expect.

Take above ingredients and stuff in one van and drive for 2-3 hours on winding roads with all campers singing at the tops of their lungs. At the trail-head, untangle everyone, settle all disputes, and find all misplaced equipment. After the groups "jack-rabbits" have taken off, plod behind the slow ones to make sure that they don't miss the "well-marked" trail. For extra spice at camp, add the following ingredients:

2 idiots swimming in the icy lake
15 tents pulled down at midnight
3 people thrown into the lake
3 wild "bears"
2 severe cases of "ants-in-the-pants" at midnight — the objections to which can be heard all over the camp.

After all these ingredients have been thoroughly mixed, try to put everything back in the van after a tiring hike, and then dream of luxuries of home!

Bats, Balls and Bruises

Bats, balls, bruises. Especially the bruises. But a time of entertainment for all - sometimes more so for the spectators than for the participants. I like Jon Briggs' letting his pants on the B-ball court during mixed play period. Or Steve Rose breaking Wendie Maxwell's leg during three-legged soccer. Wise, not quite sure how he did that, but evidently the sefs' backs were turned. But everyone has recuperated and is back on the ball

Skiing

Headlines are being made today on the ski slope; Denise Schroetlin finally succeeded in capturing Randy Rider's attention by executing a perfect wedge over his new Olins. At this moment Larry Davis is riding down the chair. Down? What happened Larry? Other stories: Roger Beck Hotdogs into a tree — not smart Roger! Barb, Kathy, Jeannette, and Daisy are very much mistaken about the availability of a sauna at Mt. Sporkane. Maybe they'll start a new fad — Skiing in swimming suits . . .

Gymnastics

What has 28 legs, is red and white, is as flexible as a rubberband and flies through the air with the greatest of ease? If you guessed the white-winged, red-bellied, flea bitten thrush monger, you are wrong. In truth, this monstrosity is simply the U.C.A. gymnastics team in all its glory. Every morning this group of aspiring young athletes meets at the gym to practice death-defying feats of skill, bravery and sometimes pure foolishness. After all the practice that goes into each morning, there is something to show for it. Smooth routines on bars and beams and clockwork precision on the floor. Just in case you were wondering, there is a way to tell if things are really going smoothly; watch Mr. Aldred. If his forehead is crinkled, things are not going as planned. U.C.A. is proud of its gymnastics team.

Melodious Tones

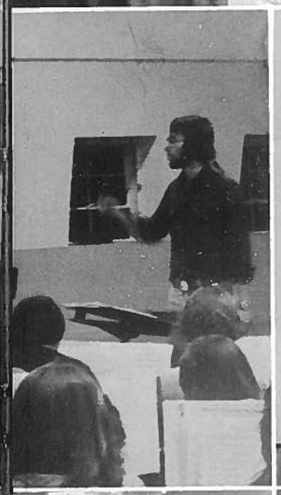

Choir members meet at 11:10 and sing to drown out the growls emitted by restless stomachs. Stretching exercises which involve all manner of contortions precede the day's work. At precisely 4:55 pm, Monday through Thursday, band members and choristers crowd the first and third floors of the music building. The choristers sound like a singing dairy farm as their "mē, mā, mu, mō, mōs" echo in the halls. Bandsters fight chairs and grope through other obstacles to get their instruments to the right sections and chairs.

The Multitudes

There is a great class spirit here. You can hear it at every A.S.B. meeting: "Seventy Nine, let it Shine." "Eighty!" "81, 81, 81, 81, 81." "Eighty two we'll smear you!" We play everything from powder puff football to break your neck basketball against each other! And if our class wins we sure let everyone know. But there is more than competition. We're only here once so we make the best of it.

Shopping For A College?

You can't just buy an education off the shelf, but if all you got from college was a diploma, then any college would do and you could "shop" for such things as price or closeness to home. But there's a lot more to a college education than that.

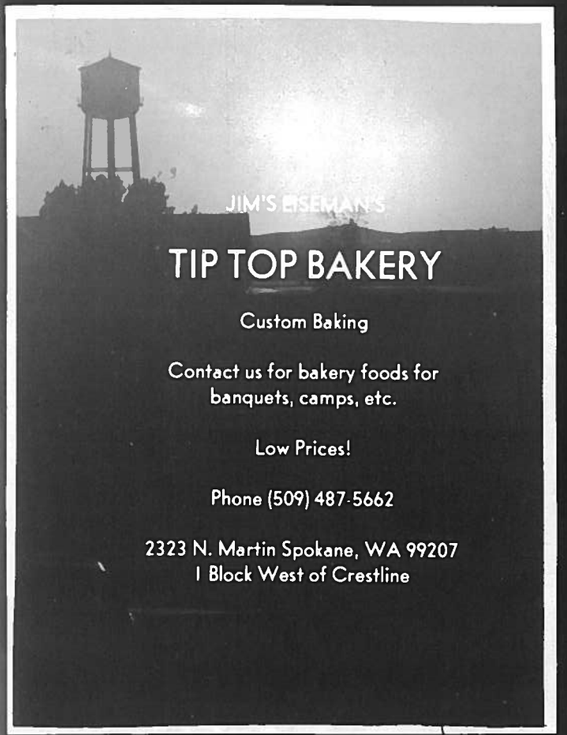

At WWC, we're trying to get God out of the church and into the classroom and your life. You may find God hiking or skiing in the Northwest mountains, playing basketball or swimming, studying in the library or practicing in the Fine Arts Center, working in student outreach programs or tossing a frisbee with a friend. You may find God anywhere at WWC doing just about anything.

There are lots of degree programs to choose from at WWC, everything from one-year certificates and two-year associate degrees to full four-year degrees. But the bottom line here is helping you get your life together.

So when you're shopping for a college, remember that there's a lot more to it than a fancy-looking piece of paper. You're getting ready for the rest of your life.
