Alexander Graham Bell

Our Annual is dedicated to a good friend whom without there would be no new phone system on our campus this year. We wouldn't have any means with which to call home to ask for money or just to say a general "hello". It would also be really hard to "reach out and touch someone." (Especially with the social rules). You guessed it! This year-book is dedicated to Alexander Graham Bell who widened the scope of communications all over the world by inventing the telephone.

Remember all the new faces, old friends and long lines? By the end of handshake your upper limb felt like it had gone through a trash compactor and your face ached from putting on your best smile to greet everyone. Remember it all? Trying desperately to figure out your schedule and get it memorized. Ohhh—the agony of a 7:35 a.m. class! And all the new faces of the staff! Even though we anticipated the coming year, it was with a sad heart we said good-bye to our families. Remember it all?
