Dedication to Mr. Lange

There are many elements that make UCA what it is: the student attitude, the curriculum, and the location. But the faculty contribute a major portion to the smoothness and efficiency achieved on our campus. I believe that each of our teachers are specifically called to work and share in the lives of the students. These people have the opportunity to help us enjoy our academy experience and guide us in many areas of life. Our campus would not be the same without one special person, Mr. Lange. He has been on this campus for the past 30 years teaching our mothers, fathers, brothers and sisters the art of music. Each day he adds a new dimension to the world of rhythm and counting. I have enjoyed music more in the 4 years I have been here than I have anywhere else!! Mr. Lange is not only interested in when you practice and how talented you are but also in what you are dealing with in your life. Each day he has a teasing smile and a word of encouragement for us. There are many times when we might think about leaving music, but he's always there to encourage us to continue. With every lesson we have, no matter how bad we do, he always has a positive word on how we've improved, no matter how minute it is. A senior recently told her parents, "Our music department is worth its weight in gold." Mr. Lange is not only a teacher he's a friend, one that you can trust and talk to. It's people like him that make UCA the growing experience that it is.

As we look back through the years we all realize how much we've grown. We've left behind our childish needs and selfish ideas about the world. Now we are focusing on Christ, savoring all He gave us and all we have. Realizing that as the years slowly escape us we have parted with something better. Saving the best of everything for the end.

4 YEAR SENIORS

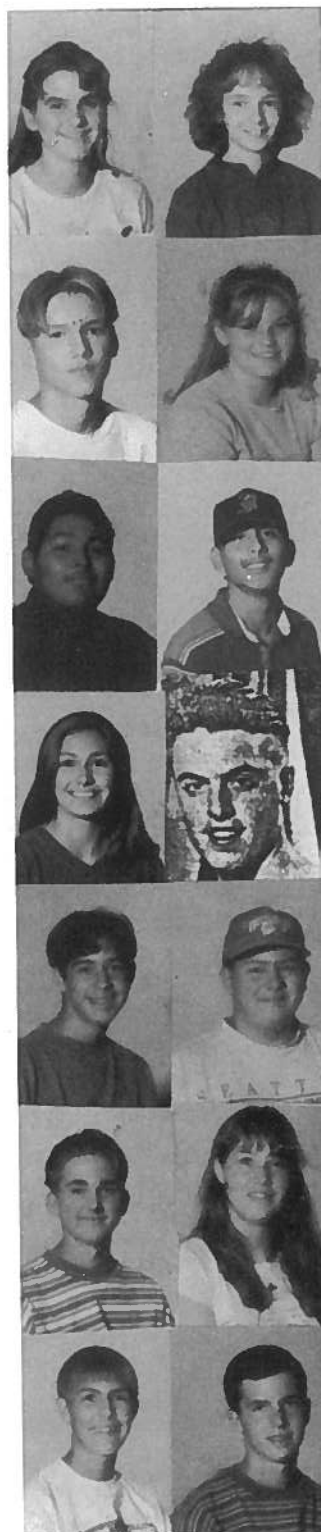

Do you remember when we'd walk through the narrow halls of the old ad building and see Mrs. Gee smiling cheerfully in her office? We'll never forget the mass Strobe light-pillow fight. These memories define our freshman year. We were at the bottom looking up, now we're at the top. We've grown close and made many memories together that will last a lifetime, but now it's time to say goodbye, but not for forever.

Registration Day

Registration, a day when you break all ties from home and brave the wild unknown, or so you might think. The day starts out with a grueling ride or short jaunt depending on where we might live. Upon arrival at UCA we went to the Ad Building to pick up our package and then went elsewhere to fill it out. Once the package was filled out we packed our meager possessions to our rooms and, after saying our good-byes, went up to the ball field for supper. After we had eaten, we were asked to go to the gym for the introduction of the ASB officers (a rendition of where is Waldo). After giving out prizes, the ASB officers started handshake. Handshake was a time when we met new people and saw old friends. Handshake was the last and most assuredly the best part of the day.

OH WHAT A CENTURY!

SELECTIONS FOR THE 20TH CENTURY:

Signature personality- Adolf Hitler

Signature event- Sinking of the Titanic

Greatest event of the century- Apollo 11 lands on the moon

Brightest moment- Collapse of the Berlin Wall

Darkest moment- Adolf Hitler becomes chancellor of Germany

Most influential men- Vladimir Lenin, Josef Stalin

Most influential women- Eleanor Roosevelt, Jackie Kennedy

Most inspiring man- Gandhi

Most inspiring woman- Mother Teresa

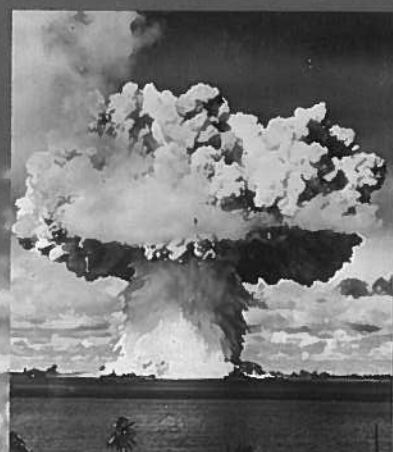

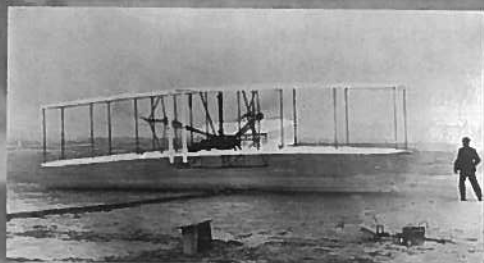

Most influential spiritual leader- Pope John Paul II

Greatest industrialist- Henry Ford, Bill Gates

Greatest sports personality- Babe Ruth

Most influential entertainment personalities- Elvis, the Beatles

Greatest Invention- silicon microchip

The 20th Century has been the most amazing in the history of mankind. It began in Victorian gentility, with bewhiskered men, proper ladies, horse and buggy, and the promise of peace and stability through European world dominance and Christian virtue. Progress would lead man to a new Utopia and optimism framed the future. The century ends with a mixed memory of nightmarish insanity and inspiring glory. We became very good at killing one another, but also at reproducing as mankind's population swelled to six billion. We took wings and flew to the moon and progressed from horses to horsepower. Mail became e-mail as the whole world was reduced to a computer monitor. But the very planet we live on now groans beneath our weight. What will the 21st Century bring? Only God knows. And since He does, we are in very good hands.

THE YEAR'S EVENTS

Impeachment and acquittal

Yankees win Series!

John Glenn's second chance.

Sammy Sosa hits 66!

Wall Street runs wild.

Mark McGuire hits his 62nd home run!

The President- William Jefferson Clinton.

Boris Yeltsin.

Newt Gingrich.

John Elway wins his second ring!

The Intern- Monica Lewinsky

Hurricane George.

Celine Dion.

Gettysburg reenactment.

Kenneth Starr.

Terrorist Osama bin Laden.

Shania Twain.

1998-99

The past year can be summed up in one word-UNBELIEVABLE! It was a combination soap opera, sports fantasy, and nightmare all rolled up in one. The dominant news story was President Clinton's sexual (or was it) affair with young White House intern Monica Lewinsky. This affair led to an investigation by Independent Counsel Kenneth Starr who then sent it to the House of Representatives for further investigation who then sent it to the Senate for an impeachment trial. As an increasingly sickened America watched, the politicians floundered along endlessly, bickering like immature school children before finally voting to acquit the President. On a lighter note, the sports world provided amazing and inspiring stories. An epic home run derby between Mark McGuire and Sammy Sosa led to the smashing of Roger Maris's single season home run record as McGuire finished with 70 and Sosa with 66 home runs. Sports dynasties dominated as the Chicago Bulls three-peated, the Denver Broncos and Detroit Red Wings repeated, and the New York Yankees won their 24th World Series. Shania Twain and Celine Dion were queens of the country and pop music worlds. Hurricane George slammed into America, and Hurricane Mitch killed over 10,000 in Honduras and Nicaragua. Terrorist Osama bin Laden blew up two embassies in Africa, the United States attacked Iraq, and Serbs murdered Albanians in Kosovo. The economy was strong, the "bulls" ran wild on Wall Street, and Y2K haunted every computer's nightmares. Come to think of it, UNBELIEVABLE would be an understatement. Wonder what next year will bring?

Robert has always been a good boy and an easy child to raise. It took a while for his "preaching" talent to come forth, but it finally did; now
he will talk anywhere, anytime.
I thank God for giving me such a wonderful, spiritual, talented, loving boy to raise and for leading him in the right direction.

To Colleen—Our self-confident child.

You have always been sure of your opinions and abilities, sometimes confoundingly so, and we have usually tried our best to let you be yourself. This arrangement seems to have worked and we want you to know that we are very proud of the beautiful young woman you have become.

We have, and promise to always, cherish you, believe in you and support you as you follow God's plan for your life.
Love, Mom and Dad

To my favorite person to share a bunkbed with—

Congratulations! You have singlehandedly survived two years of dorm life and cafe food—what a woman! You also, in the past 18 years or so, have changed from a screaming, diapered annoyance to one of my closest friends. I'm so proud to have you as a (big) little sister. Remember: "If you have built castles in the air..."

Love you—Sara

Dear Colly-

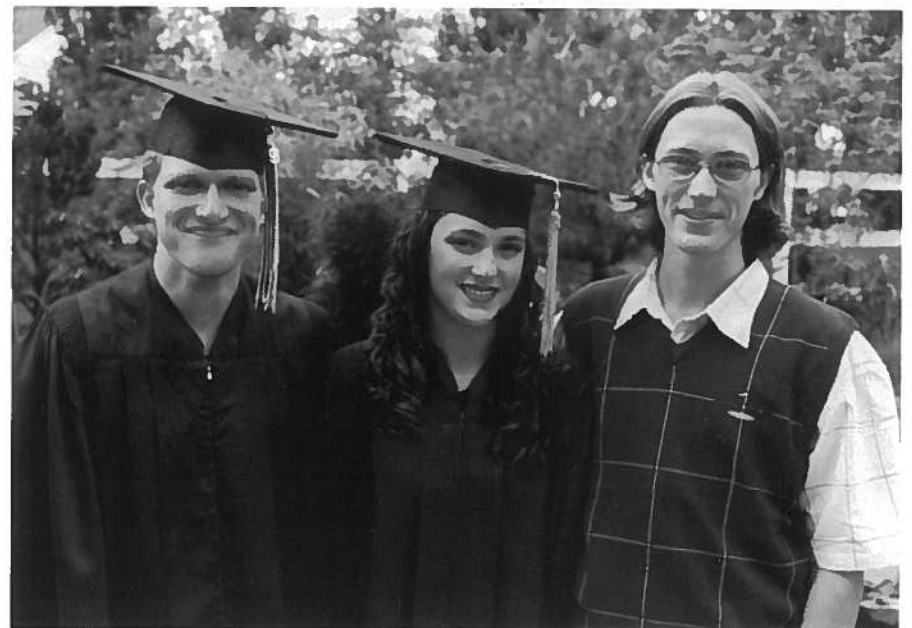

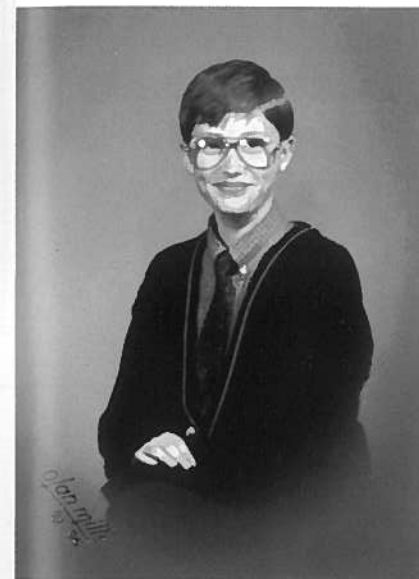

You're one of my two favorite sisters. I couldn't have picked better! I'm so proud to see you graduate. Congratulations!

Aaron

Coll,

I'm so thankful for your friendship and all of the wonderful moments we have shared. I'm very proud of all the accomplishments you've made and the person you are. God truly blessed me by giving me you as a best friend. Always remember that I am here for you!

Forever your Friend,
Meg

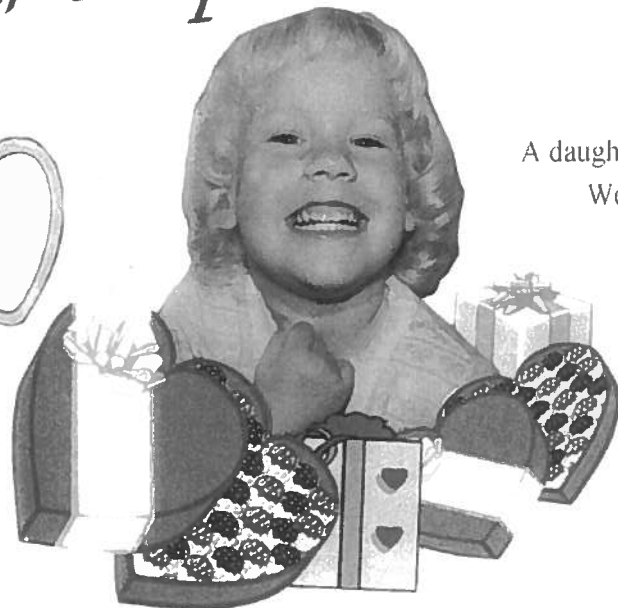

My Little Nature Inside Stone Walls

In another time, in another place, perhaps even another planet this place exists:
Where flowers grow at my touch and imagination.
People come and go as they please.
Time is what you make it
and Grandma is always there making sweet sugar cookies.
Water runs with a powerful roar so silent that it will send you to a peaceful sleep.
To breathe in is to breathe life, and to exhale is to share it.
We are all happy...
this is heaven

Your yellow-tinged skin, your wrinkled arms and legs, your little button nose..
The whole essence of you is perfection.

You grew and you changed, We feel only awe..

Your tomboy ways vs. tuu tuu days, made you graceful, yet strong and true..
The whole essence of you is perfection.

Your love for God and fellow man, We feel only pride.

Your achievements, your goals. The way you've chosen to shape your life thus far..
The whole essence of you is perfection.

With every passing year, We feel only blessed.

You have grown into a beautiful young lady.
Keep God as your guide through college days ahead.
The whole essence of you is perfection.....
Through Our Eyes.

With Love,
Momma, Daddy, and Andy

Dear Stephen,

You laughed before you talked. You have always filled our home with so much happiness and fun. You really do live life to the fullest. We're thankful for the choices you've made and for your caring, friendly personality.

We're proud that you're our son. You will always stand tall in God's eyes and ours. We love you and know that God will always be with you as you put Him first.

Stephen, now you're graduating, and the best is yet to come. We can't wait to see Jesus giving you your crown of life.

Love, Mom & Dad

Stephen,

The moment you arrived home from the hospital you became my constant companion. Our adventures were always full of mischief and laughter—nothing has changed.

I'm proud to be known as "Steve's sister." Not only are you the best brother ever—you are my best friend.

Love you,
Becky

Amber...

Look how far you've come,
And look who you brought along.
Are we pleased?
Indubitably!
Are we surprised?
Not any more.
All our love and best wishes,

Mom, Dad, and Ted

Lindsay Nicole,

You are the greatest friend anyone could ever hope for.

There are so many cool things we enjoy about you.

You're loyal, a GREAT listener, energetic, fun loving, accept people as they are, and have a great personality.

You also have cute dimples when you smile and sparkly brown eyes. Most of all, we appreciate your desire to have a closer relationship with Jesus.

Thanks for being you. We love you SO much!

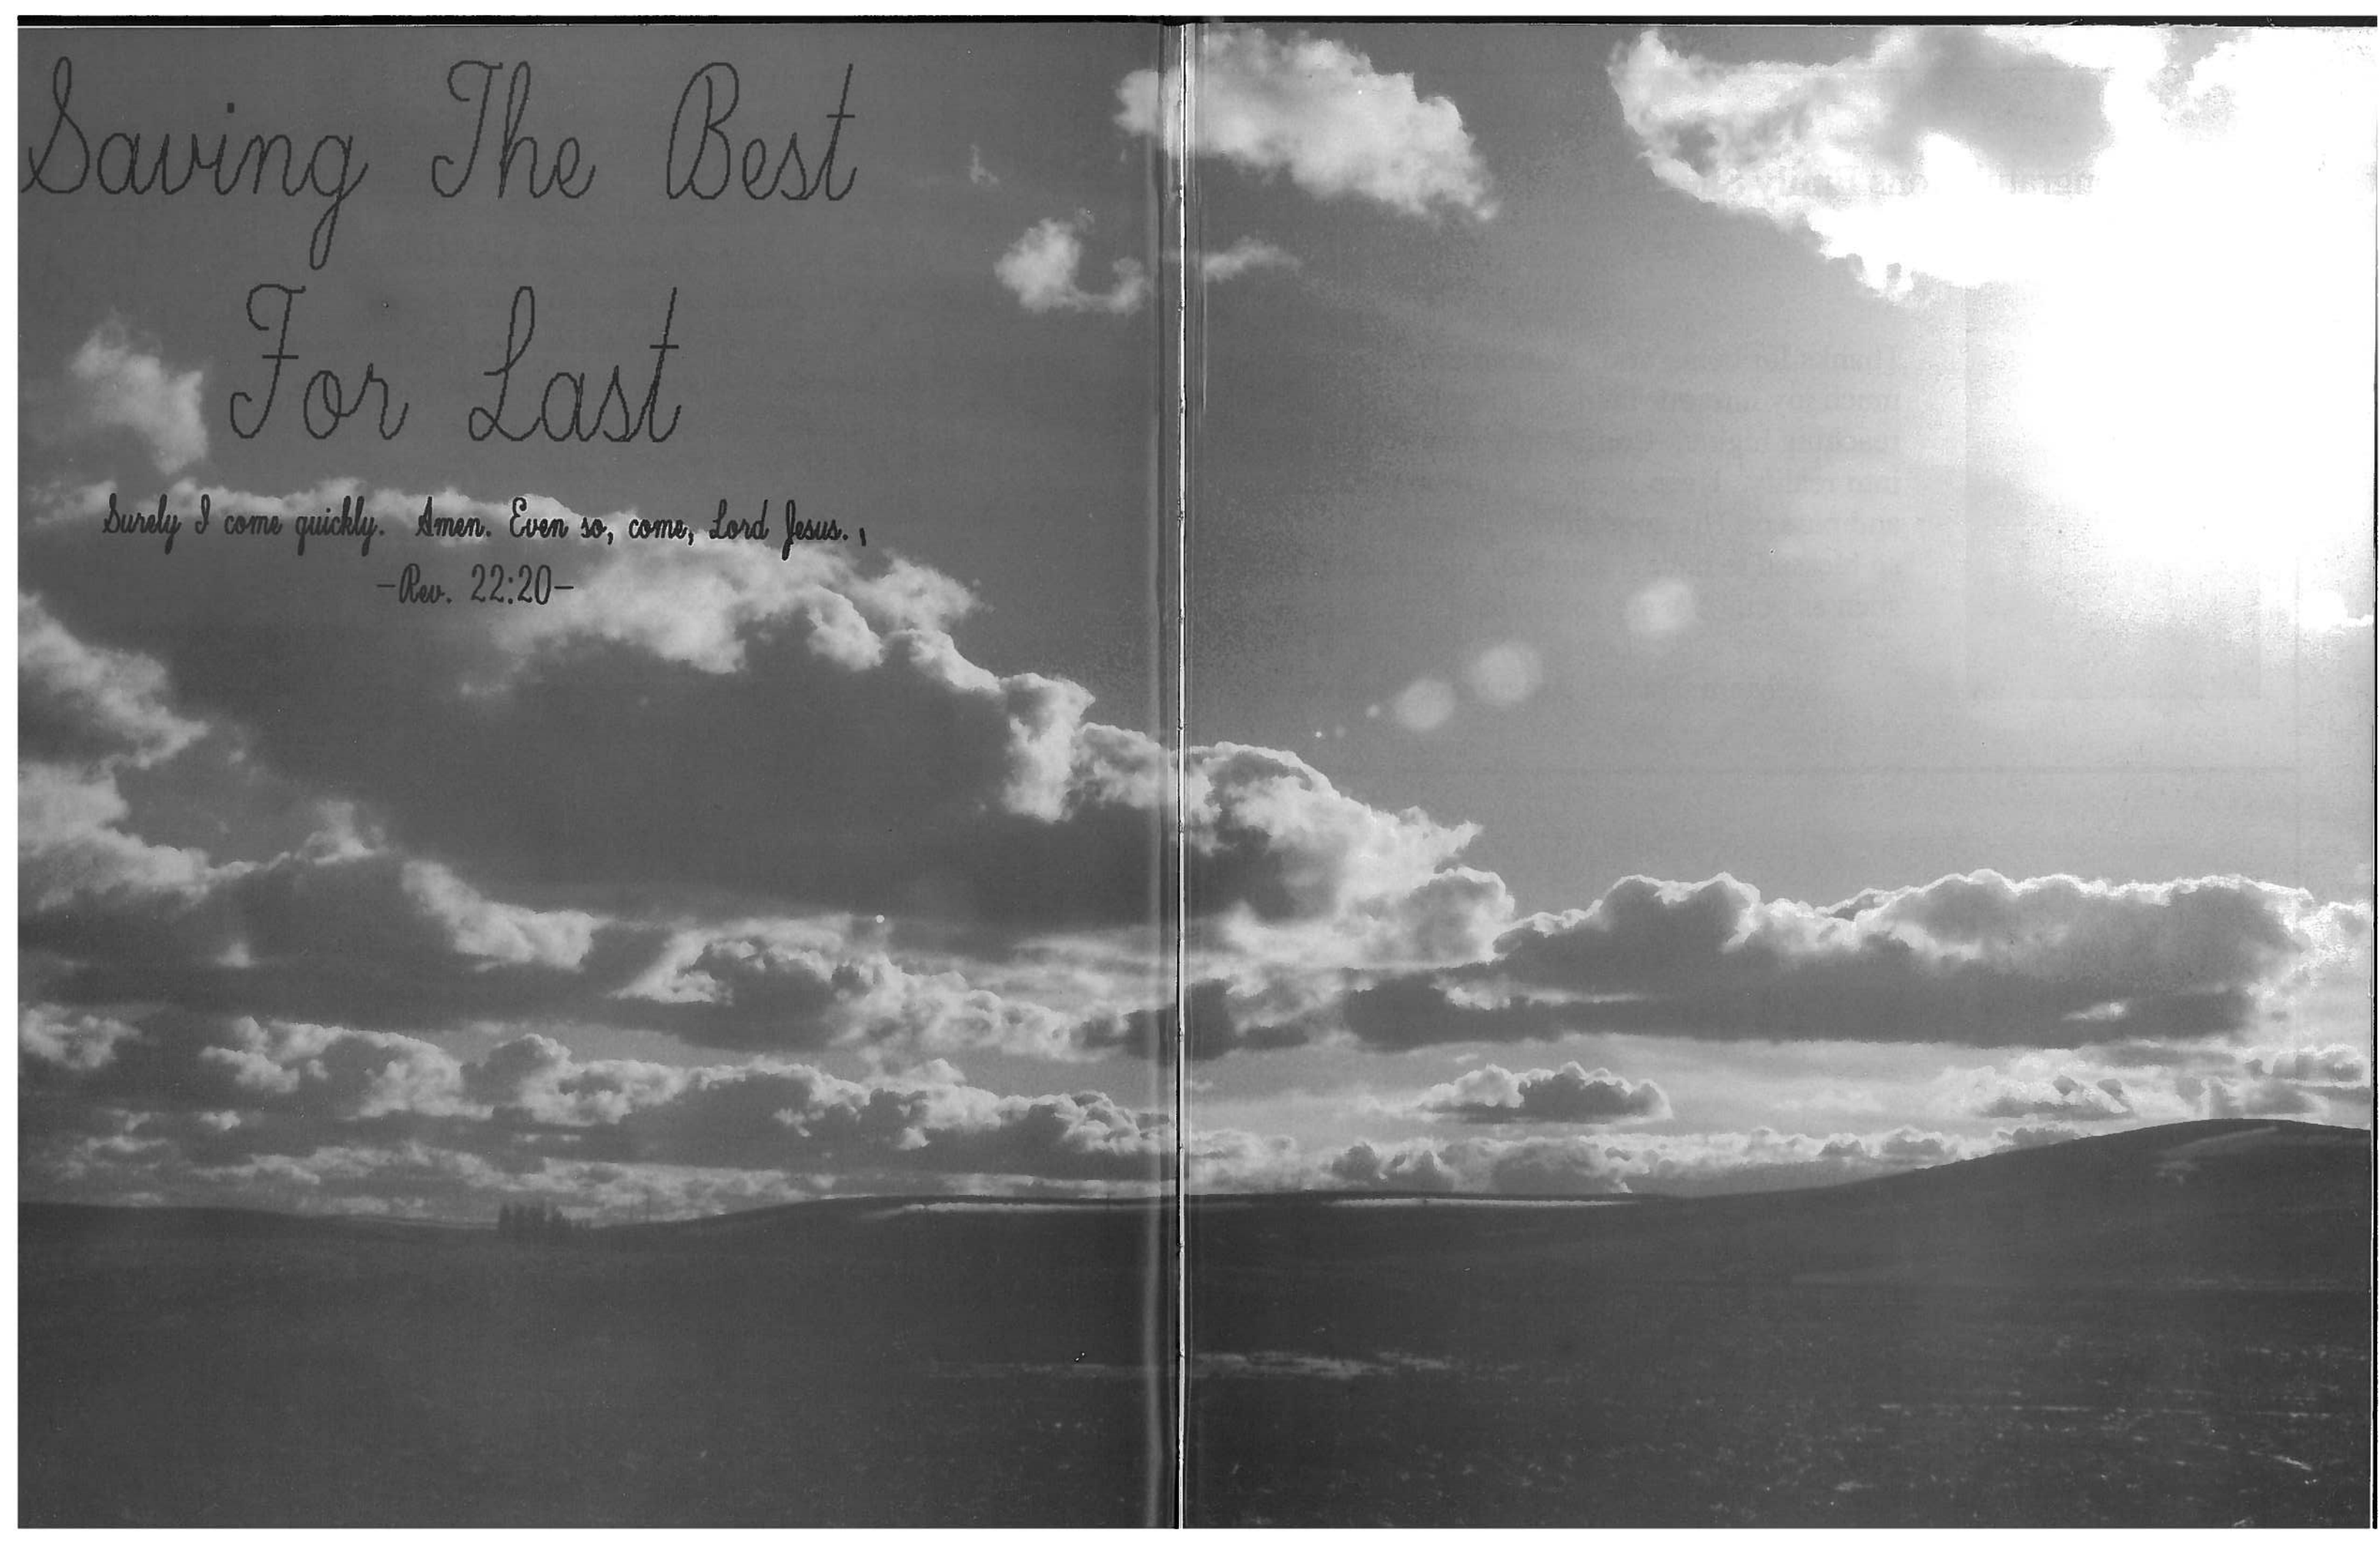

Love, Mom and Ashley

Saving The Best For Last

Surely I come quickly. Amen. Even so, come, Lord Jesus. , Congratulations Emily Sue and the Class of 1999.

Thanks for being you. You've brought so much joy into our family. Keep focused and reaching higher. Confidently turn your goals into reality. Keep Jesus as your best friend and pass on His good news. Our family is so blessed to have a daughter, sister and friend such as you. We are so proud of you!

Love,
Mom, Daddy, Amanda & Chelsea
